

Edible Landscapes for Food and Beauty Right at Home

How can edible plants be effectively integrated into home landscaping? The Oregon Gardens in nearby Silverton demonstrates what edibles can easily grow in the Pacific Northwest and how they can be combined. Debbie Krekos, a Master Gardener who lives in West Linn, shares pictures from her own garden to encourage others to try their hand at edible landscapes.

To learn more about edible landscaping, please visit the following web sites:

- <http://www.teufellandscape.com/blog/solutions/edible-landscaping>
- http://www.ehow.com/list_7458616_edible-landscaping-plants.html
- <http://beingfrugal.net/2008/09/15/edible-landscaping-for-beginners/>
- http://extension.oregonstate.edu/mg/metro/sites/default/files/Edible_Landscaping.pdf

Source URL (retrieved on 2012-05-09 22:34):

<http://westlinnoregon.gov/sustainability/edible-landscapes-food-and-beauty-right-home>