Bench Probation vs. Formal Probation

Bench Probation

You will remain under the jurisdiction of the Court for the length of probation. Failure to comply with the Conditions of Probation, may result in a warrant for your arrest. You could be sentenced to the maximum term in jail if you fail to comply with your probation. Any evaluation, counseling, or testing ordered by the Court will be at your own expense.

General Conditions of Bench Probation

2. Remain in the State of Oregon until written permission to leave is granted by the probation officer or the Court.
3. If physically able, find and maintain gainful full-time employment, approved schooling, or a full-time combination of both. Any waiver of this requirement must be based on a finding by the Court stating the reasons for the waiver.
4. Change neither employment nor residence without prior permission from the Court.
5. Obey all municipal, county, state, and federal laws.
6. Promptly and truthfully answer all reasonable inquiries by the Court.

Formal Probation

Any evaluation, counseling or testing ordered by the Court or required by your probation officer will be at your own expense.
