

Finnbar

By Olivia Kausen

From the moment I saw Finnbar it was love at first sight. And this is how it happened,

On Saturday morning I jumped out of bed because I remembered something! It was the day my family was going to get Guinea Pigs!!! I ran upstairs and asked “when are we leaving?” “after breakfast” my Mom replied. I ran into my sisters room “Come on Eloise” I called out to her.

Eloise jumped out of bed and ran over to the guinea pigs cage soon to have guinea pigs in it.

About 30 minutes later my Mom called “Breakfast time” I hurried to the table and sat down and ate my cereal quickly then we all left the table I walked to the calendar and moved the little magnet to Saturday, Then I went to get dressed. Then about 30 minutes we put on our coats and got in the car. It started raining my Dad turned on the wind shield wipers . I sighed and took out a book, I opened my book. We drove for about an 1 hour I looked out the window the rain had stopped and we were in a different part of town there were red arches and one small street. My Dad turned the car towards the small street. “ Were almost here” he said. There was about ten houses on the street, and my Dad asked what is the house number again? 7359” here it is” Eloise shouted Then he turned into the driveway we all got out and walked towards the door. “Can I ring the bell?” I asked. “Sure,” my Mom replied. The doorbell sounded flat. A woman came to the door. “Hi,” she said. “Wait here.” She ran inside the front door and the garage door opened. “Come in.” We stepped in a re-decorated garage. There was one guinea pig cage and some pet crates. “Nola, Iggy. Come on!” She picked up two guinea pigs. “This is Nola and Iggy.” She put Nola on my lap and Iggy on Eloise’s lap. About 20 minutes later she took the last 2 guinea pigs out. “This is Finnbar and Bevan.”
