Anne Frank: Diary of a Young Girl
White Bird

THE LABORS OF HERCULES BEAL

Gary D. Schmidt

This book isn't new or old, but it is an amazing read. Hercules is in 7th Grade and has been through things that most people his age have not. When his commanding teacher assigns Hercules to take on the tasks completed by the famous Hercules, he is stretched and pushed beyond what he thought possible.

Simon Sort of Says
The Storyteller

TURNING TWELVE

Kathryn Ormsbee

The sequel to Growing Pangs finds Katie getting her first job, making new friends, and realizing she maybe, possibly has a crush. The graphics are amazing, and the writing makes you experience all of the feels, just like Katie.

Miss Quinces
Pizza Face

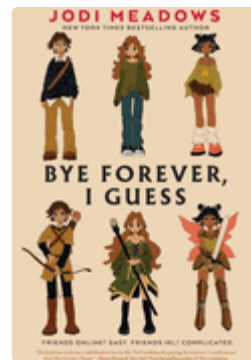

POPCORN

Rob Harrell

Andrew's just trying to make it through Picture Day, but life is making that hard. As events pile up, the little kernel of worry in his stomach is getting hotter and hotter, until it threatens to pop and turn into a panic attack. He tries to keep his anxiety at bay, but then he gets the news that his grandmother with Alzheimer's is missing.

BYE FOREVER, I GUESS

Jodi Meadows

A little romance, a little mystery, and a lot of humor make this book hard to put down. Ingrid is awkward and shy IRL, but her online persona is hilarious and witty. She just broke up with her bossy, not-so-great BFF, and is trying to navigate life on her own.
