Guest Speaker/Informational Topic

Travis Williams, Willamette Riverkeeper.

The Willamette Riverkeeper association has been in existence since 1996, and was the 12th of hundreds world-wide to be formed. Its primary missions are Cleanwater Act enforcement and habitat restoration.

Current projects include study of native freshwater mussel beds, development of a local and nationally recognized Water Trail, involvement in Superfund cleanup of Portland Harbor contaminated sediments, and rules regarding large surf wakes generated by recreational boaters.

Q&A and a discussion followed.

Announcements, City and Community Events

A new meeting space for RNA meetings may need to be found once construction on the Robinwood Station starts this summer. More to come.
